

Alabama House Alarm Systems from Elite Security Services Improved with the Addition of Advanced Digital Keypad Device.

In an endeavor to strengthen their position in Alabama House Alarm Systems industry, Elite Security Services has just introduced their new Digital Keypad device to all their service plans. The trusted home protection service from the company is available now in all major cities across the United States and Canada for an economical price range.

Elite Security Services, America's fastest growing home protection company, have just enhanced their Alabama house alarm systems with the introduction of yet another new device. This new device, named digital keypad, is now being offered by the company with all their home protection packages all over the state. Elite Security Services is one of the latest entrants in the American home protection industry and was formed last year by well known security consultant Mr. Paul Shakuri. The technologically advanced and economically priced service plans from the company have quickly propelled them into a position of strength in the industry.

This recent enhancement of their Alabama house alarm systems packages is a significant step for the company because the digital keypad device offers of useful features for users to conveniently avail emergency assistance. This device not only helps in connecting immediately to police departments, fire stations, and paramedics, but also informs homeowners about emergency situations that may take place in their house, in their absence. The device is equipped with a sophisticated voice verification system and sends security alerts whenever any of the monitored windows or doors is opened by an unsolicited person. Announcing the introduction of this new device in Alabama, the company owner Mr. Shakuri stated, "We are happy to offer our advanced digital keypad with all our service plans in Alabama. This device has excellent features to make life easier for all of you".

Elite Security Services presently offers three cost effective home protection plans in Alabama. Their basic plan is the most economical of them, with a monthly rental of $35.99 per month. The other two packages are popular amongst users for their extraordinary features. Apart from providing some of the most efficient home surveillance plans in Alabama, the company also plays its part in spreading security awareness amongst common men in this region. The introduction of the digital keypad device has been welcomed by the Alabama house alarm systems industry experts.

About the Company: Elite Security Services is a rapidly growing company in the home security industry. They offer highly efficient and economical home security solutions in America and Canada.

Contact

Paul Shakuri

Phone: 800-880-9569

Website: <http://www.YourAlarmNow.com>