

ROCKLER'S NEW UNDERMOUNT UTILITY TRAY

Workbench Storage Tray Keeps Tools Organized and Dust Out

MEDINA, MN (August 7, 2012) - Rockler has just introduced the Undermount Utility Tray, a workbench accessory made to keep benchtop tools and other items at the ready without sacrificing valuable space on the work surface. The Undermount Utility Tray easily attaches to the underside of almost any work surface, leaving the entire top surface clear for project work. The bottom panel of the steel tray is perforated to allow sawdust and other debris to fall through, keeping tools and other materials cleaner than solid trays.

"Clutter on the benchtop can be very frustrating when it interferes with your projects," said Steve Krohmer, Vice President of Product Development. "The Undermount Utility Tray provides a convenient space along side the work surface to keep tools and supplies handy, and the perforation in the bottom allows dust to pass through so you won't end up with a handful of debris when you go to grab your tools."

Each Undermount Utility Tray is made of 16-gauge galvanized steel and features a lip that is pre-drilled for easy installation to the underside of workbenches, tables, and other fixtures. The trough of the tray is rounded, making it easy to pick up small parts such as nuts and bolts.

The Undermount Utility Tray (45794) retails for $24.99 and is available at Rockler Woodworking and Hardware stores nationwide, Rockler independent resellers, Rockler.com, or in the Rockler catalog. For store locations or a free catalog, please visit www.rockler.com or call 1-877-ROCKLER.
