Welcome to the 2012 Society for the Advancement of Sexual Health Annual Conference. Thank you for joining us in San Antonio this year. This year's theme: Creating a Culture of Healthy Sexuality: Shaping the Future, continues our annual theme of examining sex addiction and how to move from addiction into healthy sexuality. Many thanks to the SASH Conference Committee for their efforts in putting this conference together.

Conference Goals and Objectives

At the conclusion of this conference, participants should be better able to:

1. Discuss current information on differential diagnosis, intervention strategies, treatment modalities, and research in the fields of sexual health, sex addiction/compulsivity, sexual offending, and sexual trauma;
2. Evaluate the evidence supporting theories, guidelines and recommendations for recognizing and responding to various aspects of sexual health and behavior;
3. Use effective techniques to identify persons at increased risk for problems with sexual health; and
4. Develop educational approaches and preventive interventions that improve the sexual health of all persons.

These objectives apply separately to each day of the conference.

The Advanced Training in Problematic Sexual Behavior (ATPSB) program is dedicated to addressing and treating harmful sexual behavior by offering premier training curriculum in the mental health and medical fields. The ATPSB program accomplishes this mission by establishing standards of knowledge for entry-level practitioners, creating standards of care inclusive of various descriptions of problematic sexual behavior (PSB), and by providing course content addressing current trends in the assessment and treatment of PSB. Finally, the ATPSB program, in conjunction with The Society for the Advancement of Sexual Health, provides national leadership in addressing the varied needs of those suffering from problematic sexual behavior and the professionals treating them.

Thank you for considering a program which will provide the necessary knowledge to help you, the professional, identify, assess, and treat problematic sexual behavior (PSB). The Advanced Training in Problematic Sexual Behavior, ATPSB, is intended to develop a broad base of knowledge in identifying, assessing, and treating this area. The curriculum is based upon six core competencies. Participants will learn from established experts in the field. There are two levels to the ATPSB training, next year's conference will offer both Level One and Two programming. Both levels will also be offered online as well as additional courses throughout the year.

Professionals can complete 32 hours of education in the Advanced Training in Problematic Sexual Behavior in 12 to 18 months. Levels 1 and 2 are each 16 hours and can be completed in two days of training or online at your own pace. Normally, the total cost of the program will be $1,900 paid in two installments. For this initial offering, however, the level one training will be offered for $800 and if you sign up for both trainings at the same time for a total of $1,400. SPSB's can renew their credential every two years for a $150 renewal fee and attend one annual SASH conference or take 12 hours of CEU elective courses (note – cost will be $30 per a CEU). A $50 dollar application fee is required for program admittance. Additional coursework will be offered on an ongoing basis both during the conference and online. After the completion of level one and level two trainings, successfully passing a final exam, licensed therapists with a Master's degree or better in the counseling field will receive a Specialist in Problematic Sexual Behavior (SPSB) credential. For those participants looking to increase their knowledge in the field, but are not licensed counselors, they will be awarded a certificate for completing level one of the program and for level two if they choose to continue.
