

FCL Graphics Names Stephen Flood Chief Executive Officer

Harwood Heights, Illinois, AUGUST 20, 2012 – FCL Graphics Incorporated, a premier North American printer of marketing collateral and business communications, today announced the appointment of Stephen Flood as Chief Executive Officer. Flood brings more than 30 years of relevant industry experience to FCL and particular expertise in all segments of direct mail, commercial printing and digital imaging.

“I’m thrilled to be joining such a prestigious organization,” said Flood. “FCL is an incredible and exciting company with a strong customer-focused base, great employees and unique opportunities for expansion. I look forward to working with our loyal customers and employees and to continuing our new service initiatives and strong growth.”

Prior to joining FCL Graphics, Flood was Executive Vice President of Vertis Direct Marketing, where he spearheaded the company’s market-leading nationwide direct marketing business, including sales, operations and technical product development. Prior to Vertis he co-founded and helped build Cirqit, a software and consulting business specializing in print strategy and procurement.
