PORTLAND'S HOTEL DELUXE DEBUTS HONOR BAR PARING MENU

August 28, 2012 – PORTLAND, Ore. – Travelers flock to Portland seeking elevated epicurean experiences and the City of Roses delivers in the most unexpected ways. When weary culinary explorers retire to their room at the city's most glamorous hotel, they can enjoy expertly paired sips and snacks at discounted prices with Hotel deLuxe's new honor bar pairing menu. Packed with authentic tasting notes, the new menu offers a fun guide to 'raiding the mini bar.' Classic cocktails, beer and wine are paired with the perfect sweet and salty snacks and, when guests tuck into these items in the pairs suggested, they'll save, on average, more than 10%.

Guided by Hotel deLuxe's new honor bar tasting menu, guests can pair whiskey with black truffle and white cheddar organic popcorn and taste how the "charred oak from the aged barrels accentuates the richness of the black truffle oil" for $14. Or, sip a bottle of beer while nibbling on savory Pacific Northwest-made cheese crackers from Beecher's for $11 and experience how "the nutty sweetness of the cracker will enhance the delicate hops and extend the finish on this classic lager." A half bottle of Oregon Pinot Noir is suggested as a complement for gourmet beef jerky at $25 because "the saltiness and secret spice bring [the wine's] cherry notes to the forefront." For those with a sweet tooth, a single serving of sparkling wine is paired with pomegranate-white tea gummy candy for $14 because the "pomegranate flavors complement and enhance the rich citrus fruit of the wine."

Whether exhausted from a long day visiting the best restaurants, breweries and distilleries in the Pacific Northwest or just wiped-out after a long day of business meetings, guests at Portland's Hotel deLuxe will find the new honor bar tasting menu packed with delectable options for impromptu in-room noshing and have fun saving on good taste.
