New Mediums Reign Supreme at QT Sydney

Digital art and new mediums will reign supreme at the much-anticipated hip design hotel, QT Sydney. Renowned specialist art curator, Amanda Love has been working with the hotel designers to give guests of the hotel a cutting edge visionary feast of light, form and contemporary features both in the public spaces, access points and throughout guest accommodation suites.

Love will be a permanent fixture of the creative collaborators as Art Curator and will source the best, most intriguing and challenging contemporary art from all over the world while managing the upkeep of the hotel's eclectic art collection.

Voted Best Art Advisor 2010 in Sydney's Art Month Awards and a board member of Australia's largest contemporary art event, Biennale of Sydney, Love is thrilled to be appointed to the unique position.

"It's an absolute honour to be working with such a creative and talented team to bring Sydney a fresh and unique approach to accommodation and leisure. Guests will not only look at the art but be involved in it as they interact with the different forms," said Love.

QT Sydney will also launch a Public Area Art Collection where guests and the general public are welcome to explore. Opening on 17th September 2012, QT Sydney is the only Sydney hotel to be a member of the exclusive global hotel group Design Hotels.

About QT Sydney

The culmination of some hefty restoration work, the historic Gowings and State Theatre buildings in Sydney's CBD have been artfully revamped to see the introduction of Sydney's newest hip designer hotel, QT Sydney.

An eagerly awaited development, with the gothic façades and features of the buildings carefully returned to their former glory, whilst inside the hotel possess cutting edge art and design featuring LED digital art, bespoke furniture and a strong use of bold colours makes clever interior design central to the hotel experience. And you can't beat the location – it couldn't be more in the heart of the city of it tried. The bowler hat lights are a favourite cheeky touch, but there's a huge focus on art and design here. QT isn't just about a place to lay your head.

QT Sydney is scheduled to open in September this year and is the only Sydney hotel to be a member of the exclusive Design Hotels.
