Well known internet marketing consultant and trainer Mike Bashi is now offering top class web hosting training through his recently launched training website Hostmonopoly.com. This website reveals all the findings of extensive research conducted on hundreds of website hosting companies by Mr. Bashi and his highly proficient team members.

Thousands of aspiring online entrepreneurs looking to build their business website can now receive high class web hosting training from reputed business trainer Mike Bashi. The highly successful business consultant from Ontario has recently introduced his new online tutorial Hostmonopoly.com. The website has been created by Mr. Bashi after reviewing all the website hosting companies in the present market. Through a detailed video presentation, he has revealed the name of the most reliable website hosting service provider. The free tutorial also provides an in depth training on creating and managing a website hosting account successfully. Most importantly, all these excellent benefits can be availed absolutely free of charge at Hostmonopoly.com.

Finding out an efficient web hosting service is the foremost requirement before creating any website. Many new businesses often make a wrong choice while choosing the website host and end up losing both time and money. According to Mr. Bashi, use of 4th generation hosting, server reliability, round the clock support, unlimited bandwidth, and unlimited domains are some of the most essential qualities of a reliable web host. Unlike most reviews conducted these days, Mr. Bashi has actually used all website hosting services for a minimum period of a month to find out the best of the lot. The members of Hostmonopoly can find out the name of most recommended website host from the website, only by providing a valid email address.

Mike Bashi is a familiar name in the online business community around the world. He has already created several successful online tutorials including the Traffic Maverick, The Affiliate Rollout, List Genesis, and many more. The introduction of his new training website has already received appreciation from industry experts. Talking about the objective behind creating this web hosting training website, Mr. Bashi said, "I had serious problems choosing a website host as a beginner. This video is a concise account of my experience with different companies. The program members can save precious time because they would not have to do the hard work".
