

Generate better documents....faster.

Automatically customise and generate:

Sales Proposals | Contracts | Group Policies | NDAs | Service Level Agreements | Financial Reports
Welcome Packs | Claims | Application Forms | Product Information | Monthly Invoices...and more!

Qorus DocGeneration automatically customises and generates documents in seconds by merging document templates with approved data stored in SharePoint, CRM and other enterprise systems.

- Business rules specified in intelligent templates determine which content to merge
- Automatically merges images, tables, and entire documents into your final document
- Ensure accuracy of information (no more copy / paste) and build on best-practice templates
- No additional infrastructure required: uses Microsoft SharePoint and Office
- No coding required for templates: created and maintained in Microsoft Word using “point and click” / “drag and drop”
- Centrally store and manage your intelligent document templates in SharePoint

“Qorus dramatically reduces the time and effort required to generate complex and highly customised documents, while improving quality, consistency and effectiveness.”

Better documents...faster!

Companies across all industries have a need to regularly generate highly customised and often complex documents. Typically, these documents are customised by staff who take an existing document or template and copy / paste the relevant content.

Qorus DocGeneration enables companies to rapidly generate virtually any type of document consisting of multiple pieces of customisable content, such as customer information, pricing, product profiles, terms and conditions, company policies, solution and service offerings.

Qorus DocGeneration also works seamlessly with Nintex and K2 workflow offerings to streamline the approval process and distribution of documents.

Why Qorus?

Qorus is SharePoint Document Automation

Qorus is the only document automation product in the market that is actually embedded into SharePoint as a feature. No connectors, no integration required.

Qorus is Easy to Use

Users make use of Qorus document automation features via the SharePoint and Microsoft Word menu ribbons. No separate interface, no steep learning curve, no coding required.

Qorus is Versatile

Qorus can be used across all departments of your organisation to generate any highly customised document such as sales proposals, legal contracts, group policies, employee or customer welcome kits, and financial reports. One product for all your organisation's high end, on-demand document generation needs.

Qorus Clients

Companies such as Vodafone, Aerion Fund Management, Exeter Friendly Society, Sanlam, The Foschini Group, JO Hambro Capital Management, Dimension Data and Eqstra already use Qorus to rapidly generate highly customised documents on-demand.

Vodafone Says...

"The time it takes to create new proposals has been reduced dramatically from up to 20 hours to now literally about one minute."

As a result, Vodafone GE's client base has increased from 270 to 586 in less than a year as sales people can now spend less time generating proposals and more time selling solutions and managing clients.

The reduction in time and man power required to generate proposals has resulted in an annual cost savings of EUR 430 000."
