

Uncle Sam's

WINNING TEAMS

Bringing down the Axis powers would take skilled, valiant efforts on land, in the air, and on the seas. So, the United States put large numbers of well-trained young men into action in the army, marine corps, army air forces, navy, and coast guard.

by Brian John Murphy

Uncle Sam's boys in uniform turned out in force for Bob Hope's USO show at Maui, Hawaii, on July 18, 1944. The seemingly endless sea of servicemen includes sailors, coastguardsmen, marines, and soldiers. NATIONAL ARCHIVES

