Advanced Microgrid Solutions Showcase

A number of developers and start-ups have come out of the woodwork within the last couple years directly targeting the “microgrid market” with proprietary solutions and unique technology platforms, generally built around the integrating, command and control aspect. This Pre-Summit Showcase will profile a representative sampling of service providers and technologies for the benefit of both system integrators and prospective microgrid adopters. Presenters will describe unique benefits of their particular system, example projects initiated or completed, keys to evaluating the cost-benefit equation for adoption of a microgrid and a particular technical solution to a microgrid, and the overall design/architecture and feature set of the system.
