

Michael Bashi introduces New Business Tutorial to Provide Free Lead Generation Guidelines for Online Business Owners.

Leading business coach and internet marketing consultant Michael Bashi is making news in the online business community immediately after the launch of his new lead generation tutorial. Listgenesis.com, the latest creation from Mr. Bashi, is quickly emerging as a trusted online program that can be accessed without spending anything at all.

Mike Bashi, one of the most respected mentors in the business community, has just unleashed yet another training program that offers comprehensive lead generation guidelines absolutely free of charge. Mr. Bashi is extremely popular amongst online entrepreneurs for his continuous commitment towards helping new business owners with his online tutorials. His new website Listgenesis.com reveals the secrets of building a huge subscriber database within no time. Unlike most other tutorials in the market, Listgenesis.com can be accessed for free, just by providing an email address. Hundreds of internet based business owners have already signed up to avail the benefits of this free list building tutorial from the acclaimed trainer.

No online business can survive in this competitive market without an efficient lead generation system. Listgenesis.com provides a comprehensive online platform that offers all necessary squeeze pages, templates, and other important tools for generation of leads on a regular basis. It has three excellent video modules that cover all aspects of list building. The members of the program are also offered many brand new business information products that can either be sold for profit or used to grow the list of prospective customers. Apart from the three modules of list generation videos, the program also offers another module consisting of videos on vital business resources like creation and installation of web forms, domain names, website hosting, etc.

Official sources have informed that many business owners have already started using this program to grow their existing lead generation model or to create a robust list building platform from the scratch. Talking about this new website, Mike Bashi says, "List Genesis focuses on offering one solution and is the best solution in the industry. We focus on one thing and become the best at it instead of focusing on multiple solutions and becoming OK at it. We strongly believe in one focus, one direction, which results in building targeted leads for our clients".

About the Company: Listgenesis.com is a unique business training website developed by acclaimed business coach Michael Bashi. This is one of the most efficient lead generation programs available on the market.
