Africa.com Releases Top 10 Most Livable Cities in Africa in 2012

OCTOBER 2012 - Johannesburg/New York – From the scenic beauty in the southernmost city on the continent, Cape Town, to Tunis in the north, voted one of the happiest and least expensive cities to live in Africa - Africa.com shares what makes these and other cities in Africa great with the release of their list of the 'Top 10 Most Livable Cities in Africa'.

Africa.com offers a useful guide for potential business travellers or families looking to relocate either from abroad or from another region on the continent. They've done the work for you; telling you how easy it is to get around with existing transport infrastructure, the literacy rate of citizens, and what leisure activities are on offer.

"Cities in Africa are some of the most sought after destinations to travel to globally and we're seeing more and more people looking to relocate. We want to share our broad knowledge of the continent to a global audience," comments Teresa Clarke, CEO of Africa.com.

A favorite with both foreign tourists and those living on the continent, Cape Town, South Africa tops the list. The cosmopolitan city was chosen because of its natural beauty and its diversity in everything from housing to cuisine options. It's also home to some of the top learning institutions on the continent.

Top 10 Most Livable Cities in Africa 2012:

1. Cape Town, South Africa
2. Accra, Ghana
3. Nairobi, Kenya
4. Johannesburg, South Africa
5. Gaborone, Botswana
6. Libreville, Gabon
7. Tunis, Tunisia
8. Dar es Salaam, Tanzania
9. Windhoek, Namibia
10. Kigali, Rwanda

About Africa.com

Launched in 2010, Africa.com is the largest Africa-related website with over five million page views per month from visitors in over 200 countries who seek information about all 54 African countries including news, facts and figures, maps, and travel information. Contact media@africa.com / + 1 212 520 4996

Link to article on Africa.com - http://www.africa.com/blog/blog.the_top_10_most_liveable_cities_in_africa.818.html