

Abhisheck Lodha

Managing Director

Lodha Group

Education: M.S., Industrial and Systems Engineering (Supply Chain and Logistics), Georgia Institute of Technology, Atlanta - USA

Areas of Expertise: Strategy, Design, Project Management, Legal, and Brand Communication

Mr. Abhisheck Lodha brings 11 years of experience in the field of management and construction. He has been associated with Lodha Group for nine years. Prior to joining Lodha Developers, he worked on advising Fortune 500 Companies to Business Strategy as a consultant with McKinsey & Company (in Atlanta, USA).

Abhisheck focuses on Operational (Design, Planning & Construction) functions and also helps guide the Legal, Strategy and Brand Communication teams. He has a focus on creating a process-oriented organization to enable top professionals to be at the helm of decision making within the group.

In a short span of time he has been a recipient of multiple prestigious academic and other honors, including:

- Leaders of Indian Infrastructure and Construction, Economic Times, 2009
- Top 50 Young Marwaris, Times of India Group, 2008
- President's Award for highest GPA amongst the graduating class at Georgia Institute of Technology, August 2000
- Henry Ford II Scholar Award, Georgia Institute of Technology, June 2000
- Recipient, Inaugural Honors Recognition Program, Georgia Institute of Technology
- Member, Deans List, Georgia Institute of Technology, Fall'97 – Summer'01
- Recipient, Faculty Honors, Georgia Institute of Technology, Fall'97 – Summer'01

Apart from his academic achievements, he has held important posts while at the University, which include being President, India Club of Georgia Tech from 1999 – 2000 and Board Member, Child Relief and You - Georgia Tech chapter from 1998 – 2000

His hobbies and interests include Architecture, Travel, Politics, Cricket and Tennis.