Central Consulting Group forms Strategic Alliance with BizNet Software for Excel Reporting and Business Intelligence

CCG's Deltek Vision® Customers Gain Easier Way to View Enterprise Information

Minneapolis, MN — October 16, 2012 — Central Consulting Group (CCG), which offers a suite of powerful, proprietary add-on financial management products to help architectural and engineering firms get more out of their enterprise resource planning (ERP) software, recently formed a strategic alliance with BizNet Software, Inc., global leaders in live, real-time, 100% Microsoft Excel® business reporting and analytics solutions.

Through the partnership, CCG customers can use BizNet's ground-breaking Excel® Business Information Suite with their Deltek Vision® ERP system and CCG add-on products. Excel® Business Information Suite puts the power of reporting and ad-hoc analysis directly in the end user's hands by creating a live and dynamic connection to massive amounts of data.

"We continually look for ways to help our clients get the most out of their software investments," said Jim Falkanger, Managing Partner of CCG, a Deltek Premier Partner. "With this partnership and the Excel® Business Information Suite, we make gathering and arranging enterprise information in Excel simple, fast and ideal for day-in/day-out usability by accounting staff, line-level managers, and any executive that can enter a formula in Excel," he said.

"In Biznet, we've found a like-minded partner that strongly believes equipping customers with the right tools for reporting and analysis is a key to driving business success," Falkanger added.

George McMann, BizNet Software Founder & CEO, agreed. "CCG is one of the largest Deltek partners in the world, with more than 1,000 Deltek customers leveraging products and services from them," McMann said. "Making the Excel® Business Information Suite available to CCG's impressive network of customers establishes BizNet even further as the industry standard for reporting solutions."
