

What others have to say about Paul Hill on LinkedIn....

“Paul is an excellent career coach that has had strong positive effect on my search and evaluation of potential business and career opportunities. His holistic approach, though uncommon in his field, yields big dividends in personal and professional areas in the lives of his clients. Paul's networking techniques are unique and effective in today's e-world. I strongly recommend Paul's services to everyone who needs an adviser, confidant, collaborator and friend to walk beside them in their transition efforts.” October 16, 2012

“I went to Paul's job search boot camp because I wasn't getting anywhere with my job search. Methods that worked years ago no longer were working and I was second guessing the reasons - too old, too experienced, don't have industry experience, etc. Paul taught me how to sell myself in a competitive job market and through this process my confidence has grown 3 fold. CEO's and CFO's are calling me for meetings. Once again, I am visible! I highly recommend Paul's boot camp to anyone in transition. Thanks Paul!” September 22, 2012

“Paul is relentless in his pursuit to make his clients successful because he genuinely cares about people! Boot Camp will give you amazing momentum; it's worth twice the price. Job search or career management are the toughest projects you'll ever work on and Paul's formula for success takes you way outside your comfort zone until it hurts.....DO IT...IT WORKS... I prepared, I made notes, I researched but when I started to follow his program I got RESULTS. Thank you so much Paul.” August 21, 2012

“I would highly recommend Paul's - The Panic Free Job Search Bootcamp. Paul and Navgeet are highly energetic and truly sincere people. They made everyone feel important and valued especially at a time you are feeling your worse. You meet other fellow bootcampers that are in the same or even worse positions and together you build a positive outcome. Paul provides a strategy that I never would have thought of and then continues to provide on going encouragement and support. Paul and Navgeet are a great team and I cannot thank them enough!” September 14, 2012

“As soon as I met Paul, I knew he was someone that could help me get through my transition. He has a tremendous amount of energy with a clear focus on helping people get hired. I really enjoyed reading his book 'The Panic Free Job Search' and credit this to landing the role I am currently in. A quote from the book 'the future doesn't have to equal your past' resonated with me. For those in transition or currently employed, pick up his book and read it 'twice'. You won't be disappointed, trust me.” September 1, 2012

“It is a pleasure to write this recommendation for Paul. His book “The Panic Free Job Search” provides a different and an effective job search strategy that goes above and beyond the traditional search. The Boot Camp is the “hands on” of the book, in which Paul shares with you the secret on how to reach hiring decision makers and tips to keep you focus in your job search. Paul is a great motivator and an inspirational person who is fully committed to the success of his clients. If you are frustrated with your job search Paul definitely will teach you the right path to achieve career success.” August 26, 2012
