

Mountain Insurance Brokers Expands to Montrose, Colorado.

The newest addition to Mountain Insurance Brokers is Insurance Agent Chris Cuellar.

Mountain Insurance Brokers is pleased to have Chris Cuellar as an insurance broker who is based in Montrose, Colorado. He provides a full-suite of insurance products and comprehensive Business Insurance Plans. He specializes in Property Insurance Policies and Casualty Insurance Policies.

Chris Cuellar provides individuals, businesses and organizations with the highest quality insurance products and services in Montrose. He has an established background in business development and marketing and uses those skills for businesses along Colorado western slope including towns such as Durango, Redvale, Egnar, Pagosa Springs, Delta, Cortez and Sapinero and Telluride, Colorado.

Chris Cuellar assists prospective individuals, businesses and organizations with creating risk management strategies that are appropriate to their unique risk profiles. He works with them to find out what kinds of risks they encounter on a regular basis, and educates them about what policies are available for each type of risk.

Originally from SoCal, his education and work experience is in Information Technology where he developed extensive experience in Online Marketing and Business Development. He moved to Montrose, Colorado in the summer of 2000 and attended Colorado Mesa University (Formerly Mesa State College). Besides operating as an insurance broker, Chris is a family man and enjoys golf and fishing.
