Language Scientific moves headquarters to Medford, MA

MEDFORD, MA (October 29, 2012) – After over 10 years in Cambridge, Language Scientific, Inc.® is shifting its headquarters to Medford, MA to accommodate its growth and expansion.

Language Scientific is completing a transformative year. In September 2011, the company was rebranded from RIC International to Language Scientific, Inc.® to more accurately reflect the nature of its business. In 2012, Language Scientific added several new services, such as Linguistic Validation and Cognitive Debriefing, becoming one of only a handful of language service providers to offer this service. The company also increased its staff to supplement and enhance its product offerings. Language Scientific continues to explore its unique combination of high quality language services and cutting edge technology to generate new language service ideas.

The move to Medford was made to facilitate the changes happening at Language Scientific. “This move will allow us to continue the pattern of growth we have had the past few years and enable us to continue to expand our product offerings,” says Brian Kratt, CEO of Language Scientific.

As a full-service language service provider, Language Scientific offers a wide portfolio of services, including On-Demand Phone Interpreting, Scheduled Interpreting, Translation, Software and Multimedia Localization, Website Translation, Linguistic Validation and Cognitive Debriefing, Natural Language Processing and other customized language solutions. Language Scientific specializes in scientific and technical translation and localization and has earned independent ISO 9001 and EN 15038 certifications.

The new headquarters for Language Scientific can be found at 10 Cabot Street, Suite 209, Medford, MA 02155. All other contact information remains the same.
