

Ultimate Landing Page System: Review Reveals Unique Conversion Boosting System

Summary: HonestyFirstReviews.com releases a review of Charles Kirkland and Jason Parker's new Ultimate Landing Page System, a WordPress system that creates stunning landing pages loaded with proven conversion boosting features.

"The Ultimate Landing Page System has quickly become the talk of the town across the entire online marketing community," reports HonestyFirstReviews.com's Tiffany Hendricks. "Whether marketers are focused on list building or improving conversion rates for CPA offers, The Ultimate Landing Page System is proving to be a valuable tool for gaining a competitive advantage."

Charles Kirkland and Jason Parker, the creators of The Ultimate Landing Page System are both successful internet marketers who have spent years split testing landing pages for their own marketing promotions. Kirkland and Parker's software which can be installed onto any WordPress powered website allows users to automatically generate landing pages incorporating Kirkland and Parker's best converting web page templates, custom graphics, Johnson boxes, countdown timers, exit-pops, and other web page elements.

Hendricks explains why winning landing pages are so important for online businesses:

"As all seasoned online marketers know, internet business success really depends on just two simple factors, traffic and conversions," says Hendricks. "If you want to make sales, you need to get people to your web page, and then once they are there you need to 'convert' them into paying customers, or at least into leads that you can follow up with via email. Kirkland and Parker's Ultimate Landing Page System is a push button simple solution to the conversion side of this equation."

The Ultimate Landing Page System is available now at a special pre-release discount. In addition to instant access to The Ultimate Landing Page System, customers also receive free group coaching with Kirkland who normally charges $3000 for consulting.

"The opportunity to get coaching with Charles Kirkland for the price of a WordPress plugin is really quite exceptional," says Hendricks. "That, plus the fact that every internet marketer out there needs killer landing pages, makes this Ultimate Landing Page System offer a real no brainer."
