

World Education Entrepreneurs Society

Join Senior Executives of Global Education Organizations Worldwide at the 2nd Annual Meeting of the World Education Entrepreneur Society (WEES).

The purpose of our annual event is to connect senior executives of education organizations, education policy makers, and education investors and innovators who work internationally. Our December 2012 meeting is designed to provide attendees with current information about the global K-12 marketplace and current education reform initiatives. Session topics include the spread of education reform around the globe, overviews of the most promising education technology innovations, growth in private school education worldwide, and opportunities in online education for global educators. Networking opportunities throughout the day are intended for leaders in global education to forge relationships, share information, and discover partnership opportunities.

Last year's inaugural event (held in Istanbul, Turkey) successfully drew over 200 educational leaders together from throughout the world—including large, multinational organizations. Participants in last year's event included organizations such as: Bahcesehir Universitesi, Berlin International School, Cognition Education, Education Industry Association, Educational Services Overseas Limited, Fairmont Private Schools, Leysin American School, Mosaica Education, Pearson, The Parthenon Group, and more.

Our 2nd Annual Event will be held Monday, December 10th 2012 from 8:30am-4:45pm at the Al Murooj Rotana Hotel in Dubai, U.A.E. Pre-registration for this event is highly recommended and requires a fee of $200 USD, which includes lunch and refreshments during breaks. Registration at the door is $250 USD. Register through our secure PayPal process by visiting www.Weesevents.com.

We look forward to seeing you soon!

More About WEES

Founded in 2011, the World Education Entrepreneur Society (WEES) is a non-government organization of senior education executives who work internationally and are committed to high standards of K-12 education and education reform. Based in Lausanne, Switzerland, with Board of Trustee members around the globe, WEES connects education executives under the four guiding principles of Innovation, Globalization, Collaboration, and Advocacy. The purpose of WEES is to support entrepreneurs worldwide to achieve breakthroughs in the quality and scalability of education services and to advance public/private partnerships that lead to significant improvements in student achievement globally. WEES offers members insights into market and business trends, networking opportunities to broker business connections and share best practices, and a global platform to engage with their corporate peers, governments and education policymakers internationally.
