<http://www.supremefireplaces.com> is now offering free shipping on a wide array of elegant and state of the art Heatilator-brand fireplace doors to suit every taste. These products not only enhance and transform a home's fireplace, but also protect the flooring and significantly reduce the energy bills.

Chicago, IL (PRWEB) October 16, 2012 -- Heatilator fireplace doors offer an effective way to add a touch of class to a home without having to spend too much money. Even with little effort, these doors transform the look of a fireplace and home in general. In addition, there are a great variety of doors to choose from at supremefireplaces.com. The website features different door options for Heatilator-brand fireplaces that are operated by gas, wood or electricity. For a limited time, free shipping is available to the 48 contiguous states.

Some of the available finishes for these door options include polished brass, stainless steel, and black. These finishes are applied on the outer trim of a fireplace door. With the combination of these paint finishes, consumers have a wide range of styles to choose from that will match their preferences and home decor.

When choosing fireplace doors, consumers who have factory-built fireplaces must first consider their Heatilator model numbers. These numbers are generally located on the inside of the fireplaces. These model numbers help in determining the fireplace doors that will exactly fit the Heatilator fireplaces. Examples of gas-burning fireplace models include the Novus 36, Reveal 42, and GNTC50 to mention but a few. Model examples of wood-burning fireplaces include EL36, EC42, Accelerator 36 (A36R and A36C) and HR36 among others. Electric fireplace models include Silhouette (SILH50E-B) and Silhouette (SILH60E-B).

Advantages of Heatilator-brand fireplace doors:

Homeowners can significantly increase the value of their homes by simply installing Heatilator-brand fireplace doors. These doors also reduce heating or energy bills, thus ensuring good returns on investment. Heatilator glass fireplace doors also protect pets and household members from open fire, which makes the fireplaces in the home safe. With the many options to choose from, customers can choose a fireplace door style that will enhance the interior design of their homes.
