

We offer a variety of temporary housing options depending on your needs; extended stays at hotels, corporate apartments, furnished apartments for rent — even privately-owned houses, condos and vacation properties.

Whether you've just moved, are on a business trip, or are just taking an extended vacation, OMG.TRAVEL wants to help you find the perfect short-term furnished rental. We understand that everyone is looking for something different, so we wanted to offer a free and easy tool to access a variety of temporary lodging options — fully furnished apartments for rent, extended-stay hotels and even privately-owned houses and condominiums.

Once you have located a corporate apartment in your desired area, you can immediately book it online. No need to contact the owner and fill out applications and wait for answers.
