

Africa Intelligence Package

Strategic and Tactical Intelligence for security Risk Management

Introduction

The African continent now finds itself at a crossroads. Many nations in the Sub-Sahara region are now among the leaders of the world's emerging markets, drawing significant amounts of foreign direct investment, while struggling with the direst security deficiencies. Africa's vast resources and growing population continue to attract multi-national corporations to establish operations and send personnel to the continent despite the infinite threats to safety and security. For these reasons, it has never been more crucial to have the tools to enable pro-active and strategic decision making ensuring the safety of your interests. Max Nigeria, based out of Lagos, acts as Max Security Intelligence's (MSI) local link to the whole of Africa, allowing for the maintaining of local contacts and ground sources throughout the Sub-Sahara.

'Our goal is to enable and support your business continuity'

A comprehensive approach to Risk Management

Our approach to Intelligence Risk Management is wide including an array of aspects which may have an effect on business continuity, and not 'just security'. These events include political turmoil, civil unrest, natural disasters, epidemics, and other events which may influence your organization's employees, facilities, supply chains and assets in the region.

Recognizing a gap in the commercial intelligence market, Max has developed TACTICAL INTELLIGENCE CAPABILITIES, providing fast updates before and during on-ground events that may affect business continuity.

We are well aware of our client's needs and time restrains, emphasizing concise and prompt reporting with clear 'bottom lines' to allow for quick, proactive decision making.

Why Max?

Max Security has been providing risk mitigation solutions tailored to the complexities affecting business continuity for over 15 years. Customers choose Max because of our client-oriented approach combined with our proven operational expertise. Our risk consultants and intelligence analysts are well trained veterans of the Israeli Defense Forces and Intelligence Agencies, who all have extensive experience. At Max we integrate the knowledge and experience of our ground operatives with expert analysis-providing our clients with a comprehensive security perspective.

Area of Operations

Max Security's AFRICA Intelligence Package provides intelligence coverage and risk mitigation for the following countries:*

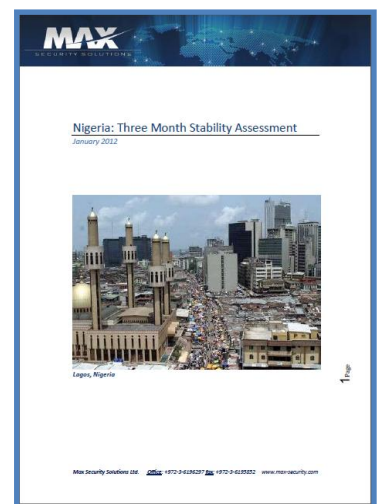

Angola, Cameroon, Ethiopia, Ghana, Guinea, Ivory Coast, Kenya, Mali, Mozambique, Nigeria, Senegal, and South Africa

*Additional countries will be added to the AFRICA package depending on client interests and regional developments.

Interested in Intelligence outside of Africa? Contact us at: intel@max-security.com

Our Methodology

Max Security Intelligence combines modern technology with proven intelligence gathering techniques in order to adapt to each of our operating environments. Our analysts triangulate and assess information from global and local press, social media, and a reliable network of on-ground sources in order to encompass a full view of events.

Products and Services Included in Our Sub-Saharan Africa Package

As business continuity and security face an abundance of challenges across Africa, MSI has recognized the need for clients to receive rapid and brief intelligence updates on incidents which directly affect their operations on ground, in addition to classic stability-focused intelligence reporting. Therefore, MSI's Sub-Saharan Africa Package includes different types of reporting, clearly categorized by subject, location, and immediate relevancy to on-ground operations.

❖ Intelligence Reports

Reporting on security and stability related incidents and trends occurring in our clients' areas of operation. Each report includes an update on the event, an intelligence assessment, recommendations for best course of action, and a visual display of information provided using satellite imagery.

Click here to view a sample Intelligence Report.

❖ Intelligence Alerts

Alerts and notices on upcoming events which may impact business continuity in a specific area of operations. Each alert includes assessments covering anticipated threats to business continuity, in addition to practical recommendations for the best course of action.

Click here to view a sample Intelligence Alert.

❖ Daily Summary

Issued every morning (Eastern Standard Time), the Daily Summary lists notable events impacting travel security and business continuity for each country in the region. Each event is supplemented with a short assessment or travel recommendation (where relevant).

Click here to view a sample Daily Summary.

❖ Special Reports

MSI composes special reports meant to inform clients on important local and regional issues and trends. These reports include organizational profiles, dossiers, and descriptions on current events in the political, security, and cultural spectrums.

Tactical Intelligence Services

Recognizing a gap in the commercial intelligence field, Max Security Intelligence has developed Exclusive Tactical Reporting capabilities to support decision makers in times of routine and emergencies.

Custom Tactical Monitoring

In addition to our strategic intelligence products, Max Security provides tactical intelligence updates in real time to our client's areas of interest. These services may be provided for monitoring high profile events, facilities and visits.

Fixed Tactical Monitoring

Max also offers subscriptions to our fixed tactical reporting coverage for various high-risk cities and areas in the region.

Click here for a sample of our Tactical Intelligence Services.

(Customized Map for Nairobi, Kenya)

Additional Products and Services Provided On Demand

These products and services may be provided per-client request, and are priced per-item.

1. Itinerary/Event based Tactical Intelligence Coverage
2. Dynamic Mapping: Visually Displayed Intelligence
3. Exclusive Special Reports: In-depth reports on any requested topic

*Tactical Monitoring Subscriptions are not included in basic AFRICA package

For any questions, price quotes or intelligence and risk assessments outside of the Sub-Saharan Africa region contact us at Intel@max-security.com