

YouTube Channel, Credit Cards For Bad Credit, Announces The Start of Their Monthly Give Away Valued at $247

YouTube channel, Credit Cards for Bad Credit, , announces the start of their monthly drawing that will give away a credit report and a 30 minute phone consultation with the author of the book “Credit Cards For Bad Credit (Rebuild Credit With Credit Cards)”. This package is valued at $247 and will be given to one individual chosen randomly each month starting December 2012.

Columbus, Ohio- Cloud Technology Systems, Inc. owner of the YouTube Channel <http://www.youtube.com/user/creditcardsforbadcr> announces a monthly drawing starting December 2012 that will give away a free credit report and a 30 minute phone consultation with the author of the book <http://www.amazon.com/Credit-Cards-Rebuild-With-ebook/dp/B0071CGVZ8/> to a randomly chosen individual. According to Larry, a spokesperson for Cloud Tech the package is valued at over $247 and provides an invaluable service to anyone that is trying to rebuild their credit.

The monthly random drawing will be held the last day of each month at 5pm Est. The first of these drawings will be held on December 31st 2012. A list of entries will be compiled and one will be drawn randomly. That individual will be notified and given 30 days to respond to claim their free credit report and schedule their 30 minute phone consultation to go over their credit report and get advice on how to rebuild their credit and improve their credit score. When Larry was asked if the free credit report had any strings attached like many of this services that offer free credit reports only if you sign up for some sort of service? Larry stated “This is an absolutely free credit report that we pay for, the winner will not have to sign up for any credit monitoring service, there are absolutely no strings attached with this credit report or consultation”

There are several ways Individuals can enter the monthly drawing and individuals are encouraged to enter as many different ways as they want, to increase their odds of winning. Here are the six ways to enter.
