

Affordable Connecticut House Alarm Systems from Elite Security Services Emerge as the Most Preferred Choice to Build Burglarproof Homes.

Elite Security Services has now emerged as the top service provider in the Connecticut house alarm industry with their excellent range of affordable security solutions. The company is considered to be one of the fastest growing security companies throughout the country. The low cost of their service plans has been the primary reason behind their exemplary success in Connecticut.

Highly cost efficient home protection service from Elite Security Services has propelled the company to a commanding position in the Connecticut house alarm market within less than one year of operation in this state. The homeowners in Connecticut have shown tremendous inclination towards the security service offered by the company because of the technological supremacy and cheaper price offered by the company. All three service plans from Elite Security Services are extremely popular amongst the homeowners in the state. Elite Security Services was formed by the renowned security specialist Mr. Paul Shakuri in the year 2011. His wealth of experience and knowledge has been one of the top reasons behind the company's instant success in Connecticut.

Like all other states around the United States, the Connecticut house alarm industry has grown tremendously over the years. However, home protection systems have always been far too expensive for common homeowners to afford them. The advent of Elite Security Services in this region has triggered a significant change in the industry. The low cost security packages from them have allowed common men in Connecticut to avail top class security for their home without stretching themselves. With a monthly rental of $35.99, the Basic protection plan is one of the most sold security plans in the entire state.

In spite of their affordable price, the security plans from Elite Security Services offer all the latest features to their customers. Apart from the basic plan, they also have two more service plans with highly advanced features. Talking about their low cost service, Mr. Shakuri recently stated, "We have always tried to bring the benefits of advanced home protection to common people because home security is no longer a luxury. We would continue our efforts to promote a crime free society by reaching out to as many homeowners as we can". He has also thanked the Connecticut house alarm customers of the company for their relentless support.

About the Company: Elite Security Services is a rapidly growing company in the home security industry. They offer highly efficient and economical home security solutions in America and Canada.
