When asked about his upcoming tour, Luke said that he has "dreamed about this day for a very long time". Additionally, he is also very thrilled about the Luke Bryan Tour, saying "We are having the best time putting together all the bells and whistles for the tour. I have spent a lot of time out on tours with some really great artists and each night we have tried to learn from them. I couldn't be more excited about this!"

His most recent album, "tailgates & tanlines" released in 2011, has sold over one million copies to date but his proudest achievements so far include taking home six albums during the American Country Awards 2012. He was hailed as the "Artist of the Year," "Male Artist of the Year," and "Single of the Year" for "I Don't Want This Night to End", along with several awards for the same single – "Single by a Male Artist," "Music Video of the Year," and "Music Video by a Male Artist."
