Digiscribe's Scan & Save Program Marks 5th Year

Proceeds to benefit The Nature Conservancy

Elmsford, New York – December 26, 2012 – Digiscribe International, provider of document scanning services, document management software and workflow automation software throughout the New York Metro area today announces their continued support of The Nature Conservancy's Plant a Billion Trees initiative. This is the fifth consecutive year Digiscribe is donating a portion of their profits to The Nature Conservancy.

The goal of the Conservancy's Plant a Billion Trees initiative is to restore 1 million acres of the Atlantic Forest by 2015. The Atlantic Forest is one of the world's most endangered tropical forests, with only 7 percent well conserved and 12 percent remaining of its original area, which spanned from Maine to South Carolina.

"Supporting The Nature Conservancy in its effort to protect the environment is an important part of Digiscribe's green initiative. In addition to reducing paper with document scanning services and office automation software, it is important for us to make a direct contribution to support environmental causes. The Nature Conservancy's Plant a Billion Trees initiative provides us the opportunity to directly turn scanned documents back into trees by donating a portion of our document scanning profits to this worthwhile effort," stated Digiscribe President Mitch Taube.
