

Ravens, 49ers Getting Set to Square Off In Super Bowl XLVII

Printablebrackets.net Offers Fans Last Chance for Super Bowl 47 Squares and Prop Bets Contest

The eyes of the world will be focused on New Orleans Sunday night when the Baltimore Ravens square off with the San Francisco 49ers in Super Bowl XLVII. Undoubtedly the largest Super Bowl party in the world will be at the Superdome in Louisiana, but millions of other gatherings will also be taking place across the United States.

As the countdown to Super Bowl XLVII winds down, Printable Brackets is offering fans a final chance to get complimentary Super Bowl party contests and sheets.

“The time for talk is nearly over,” said Printable Brackets spokesman Zaniel Worth. “Both teams embody the hard-nosed spirit of their respective head coaches and I’m sure they’re as ready for kick-off as the rest of us.”

While the Niners and Ravens continue to prepare and make last-minute adjustments, Worth says a Super Bowl 47 squares template and a Super Bowl 47 prop bets contest featuring the logos of both teams will be available on the site until kick-off of the big game.

“There’s still time to get everything you need for your Super Bowl party,” said Worth. “Fans will have right up until the time the national anthem ends and all the flashbulbs go off to get our Super Bowl pool and contests sheets.”

In addition to the Super Bowl XLVII contests, Printable Brackets has released a new set of single and double elimination brackets, including a 12-team double elimination bracket.

“People around the globe are excited about Super Bowl 47,” said Worth. “As excited as we are, we’re also just as amped up for the start of the conference basketball tournaments and March Madness, which isn’t far behind.”
