

Red Carpet Prediction: Multicolor Bracelets Sure to Dazzle During February Academy Award Ceremony, According to SilverTribe.com

Multicolor bracelets will continue to be a top pick for celebrities and fashion luminaries during this year's Academy Award ceremony, SilverTribe's Chris Anderson predicts.

While the film buffs are busy making their predictions over which movie will score big at the Oscars, the fashion community is waiting in anticipation of seeing what styles will rule the red carpet.

"I'm expecting to see a lot of multicolor bracelets as part of red carpet ensembles this year," said Chris Anderson, spokesperson for leading online retailer SilverTribe. "I'm sure when we all tune in February 24, we'll see some of our favorite celebrities sporting beautiful multicolor jewelry."

Anderson added that the company has witnessed the demand for multicolor bracelets and turquoise jewelry spike after celebrities make public appearances wearing those styles.

"It's not hard to see why so many people are captivated by this stunning style of jewelry," Anderson said. "It reflects the diverse history of the United States as well as the impeccable craftsmanship of the artists who create these pieces."

Notable turquoise enthusiasts include Kate Hudson, who is a dedicated collector of turquoise. Heidi Klum also took to the red carpet in 2012, showing off her turquoise necklace during the Golden Globes.

"Expect to see a little more color on the red carpet this year," Anderson said. "I think 2013 is going to be the year of multicolor bracelets."

Multicolor fashion is as distinctive as it is beautiful, and is crafted in many different styles using high quality material and stones, such as sterling silver and turquoise. SilverTribe offers high quality jewelry at great prices.
