San Jose Marriott Hotel Brings in the Marriott Rewards Points For Spring Travelers

San Jose hotel awards 1,000 Marriott Rewards Points for Friday or Saturday night stays.

San Jose, CA – The San Jose Marriott Hotel has expanded on the age-old expression: "April travels bring May Reward Points."

The latest San Jose hotel deal gives 1,000 points per stay for travel now through May 3, 2013. Guests not yet enrolled in the award-winning Marriott Rewards Program should do so immediately, as they can start earning points on every stay. These points can be redeemed for stays at hotels around the world as well as in-room services, tickets to special events and on goods and services with Marriott partners such as Apple and Michael Kors.

While the promise of 1,000 Rewards Points is enough to entice travelers in February through May, the San Jose Marriott and its beautiful facilities may be reason enough to book a stay. Considered one of the best San Jose hotels, the Marriott boasts 478 well-appointed guest rooms and is directly connected to the San Jose McEnery Convention Center, perfect for business travelers heading to trade shows and events.

Before or after the convention, guests can take a moment to enjoy the serenity found in the San Jose hotel's accommodations. Equipped with flat-screen televisions, productivity-boosting desks, comfortable furniture and top-of-the-line pillow-top mattresses, these guest rooms ensure travelers feel at home. Premium bathrooms also allow travelers to get ready for the day in style.

After the convention, walk back to the hotel San Jose and stop by the Arcadia Restaurant. Created by Chef Michael Mina, the popular steakhouse serves succulent cuts of premium meat as well as the popular yet unusual lobster corn dogs and truffle mac-n-cheese.

Book the Bonus Points Deal at the San Jose Marriott Hotel and enjoy 1,000 bonus points on each stay from now through May 3. For information, visit the San Jose hotel deals page.
