

Edvance360 LMS-SN Partners With Catholic Distance Learning Network (CDLN) to Host Open Webinar: Testing Online Waters – MOOCs Decoded

Attendees will learn how MOOCs can benefit smaller schools even better than the “big boys” like MIT; experts will discuss benefits, process for successful MOOCs, how to get higher-than-average completion rates, and more.

(Virginia Beach, VA) Edvance360, a leading provider of eLearning services and software solutions and a CODiE 2011 winner, announced a partnership with the Catholic Distance Learning Network to provide a free webinar called “Testing Online Waters: MOOCs Decoded”. Attendees will learn from online learning experts, Nicole Iovine, Dr. Sebastian Mahfood, and Jason Braun, how smaller institutions can and should take full advantage of Massive Open Online Courses (MOOCs).

Learn how a small seminary was able to provide MOOCs for credit to learners, facilitate community, and build their school's exposure by doing so. Hear how MOOCs actually fit smaller schools even better than the “big boys” like MIT. To learn more about MOOCs and our free MOOC offering, go to <http://edvance360.wordpress.com/mooc>.

According to the Chronicle of Higher Education: “Massive open online courses appear to be a way for colleges to broaden their appeal and stand out among other institutions.” Join this webinar to learn how your institution can take full advantage of MOOCs without committing large amounts of time and resources.
