Younger, smoother looking skin with results that begin immediately...

Just dole out a dime sized amount of Columbia Healing Cream on the back of your hand. You'll see the difference and feel the luxury immediately.

The most advanced ingredients, supplied by Mother Nature, brought to you by Columbia®...

Blending nature's best emollients with the latest technology, Columbia Healing Cream comforts and softens the skin while helping to alleviate cracking, dryness and scaly itching. Our unique combination of botanicals, vitamins and minerals protects and soothes skin while stimulating the growth of new cells to bring back younger looking skin.

The first skin cream to earn the Columbia name....

For nearly 140 years, the Columbia brand name has stood for outstanding quality, reliability and performance. With the addition of Columbia Healing Cream to our product line, our customers can now be assured of having the best available skin cream, manufactured in the United States with the same commitment to quality control that you expect from a Columbia product.

As with all other Columbia brand products, Columbia Healing Cream is also perfect for use by professionals whose daily tasks contribute the drying out of their skin.
