

Recogneyes and Dementia

In 2010 we were approached by a care home to create a new kind of signage that would help Dementia patients recognise their surroundings and be able to find their way more easily. Since then we have continuously developed and expanded a line of signs, products and visual aids with one goal in mind: to improve the quality of life for the carers and sufferers of Dementia.

We incorporate leading recommendations to create cutting edge products that can improve communication, increase independence and prompt memory.

Over 800,000 people in the UK are diagnosed with Dementia, with many more going un-diagnosed. We want to be part of a movement to increase the understanding and treatment of this condition.

CARE AT HOME

Many of our products are ideal for home care situations. Repositionable labels, directional signs and communication aids such as our app are ideal for reducing stress and maintaining independence for Dementia sufferers at home.

RESIDENTIAL AND NURSING HOMES

When it comes to placing a loved one in a care home, quality counts. Our system can help Dementia patients feel more confident and comfortable in their new surroundings.

Care homes with the Recogneyes system in place show a high emphasis on quality of care for Dementia patients.

RECOGNEYES PRODUCTS are designed to make life easier for both patient and carer. All of our products are developed with health care professionals and leading Dementia researchers from the UK, US and Australia. Our products also meet the requirements of the National Dementia Standards.
