Cosmetics Design Highlights Valdata's Release of the New Version of its Formulation Software - Recipe Manager 2013

April 2, 2013: Valdata Systems is pleased to announce that the release of Recipe Manager 2013 has been highlighted in Cosmetics Design March 27, 2013 e-newsletter as well as a feature article on Cosmetics Design's website.

Cosmetics design.com | USA

The article highlights the additional functionalities which have been incorporated into the popular recipe development software including:

- Streamlined installation process

- Easily track packaging options

- Improved costing calculations

- Multiple standard batch sheets to choose from

- Cloud/hosted version available

The article notes that the new features build on the software's existing functionality which includes full process applications for each recipe, error prevention and its ability to tie into manufacturing execution systems providing seamless manufacturing and complete traceability.

> "With formulators coming under increasing pressure … there is an increasing demand for more sophisticated tools to help make this process simpler."
