

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Danielle Faith releases new website, My Secret Stash

Los Angeles, CA – April 1, 2013 – Danielle Faith is a lifestyle blog with e-magazine content that is designed to compile everything that is interesting on the Internet in one place. Millennials will find My Secret Stash a convenient place for them to find all of their web content and interact with like-minded readers.

Danielle Faith is expanding her online footprint with the launch of My Secret Stash, and she hopes that college students will love the content posted on the site. Danielle said, “My Secret Stash is more than a Secret, it is a treasure!” The site will have various treasures from around the website that is located all in one place where readers can conveniently indulge in their favorite content.

Danielle Faith is a passionate blogger in her twenties who embarked on a journey when she decided to create this blog. She has 7 years of online experience, 1-year online personal blogging experience, and 5 years Internet marketing experience.

Danielle started The Danielle Faith Blog as a way to express herself by sharing her interests, experiences and life with the world. She is a student, a daughter, and a self-proclaimed workaholic who enjoys art, music, baking, and fashion, as well as letting her creativity out in any way she can.

Some of the content readers will be able to find on My Secret Stash as it develops includes information on the web apps, sites that are interesting and relevant to millennials, and feel-good posts that will make readers smile. In addition, since My Secret Stash is catering towards young adults that often do not have a lot of disposable income, Danielle Faith will be including good deals that can be found in stores and around the web that readers of My Secret Stash can take advantage of.

My Secret Stash is an extension of Danielle’s first successful blog, www.DanielleFaith.me. Despite being a new website that is developing a readership from the bottom up, My Secret Stash is already gaining an impressive average of 50 page views per day, with viewership consistently increasing daily.

To learn more about My Secret Stash, visit Danielle Faith’s new website at www.mysecretstash.me. Visitors will be able to view the brand new layout with increased user functionality that My Secret Stash will be debuting soon. To contact My Secret Stash, email Danielle Faith at PUT YOUR EMAIL HERE.

###