

VISIT Portland MICROBREW BY BIKE

.....
THEN SLEEP with us!

Come on and Hop in the Saddle! The latest package at the Jupiter Hotel in Portland, Oregon has guests eating, drinking and biking their way through “The City of Roses”. You’ll get a copy of the new book Hop in the Saddle, a carefully curated guide that separates the status-quo ale trail from the cutting edge brew destinations that make Portland so world-renowned.

Hop in the Saddle INCLUDES:

- ROOM AT JUPITER HOTEL
- BUCKET OF OREGON'S OWN ROGUE ALES BEER
- COMPLIMENTARY USE OF TWO CITY BIKES AND NUTCASE HELMETS
- HOP IN THE SADDLE BOOK
- FREE WI-FI AND WATER AVE COFFEE

We’ve got you covered at the Jupiter, with bike rentals on property (start your exploration from our front door!), maps, and knowledgeable front desk staff to get you off on the right foot. Portland based company, Nutcase Helmets, have provided our guests with fun head gear and bike bells to make sure your trip around town is a safe one. And at the end of the day, come back to a comfy room to crash in, complete with flat screen TV’s and queen pillowtop platform beds featuring down pillows and comforters.

Check out the book by Lucy Burningham, prominent cycle guidebook author Ellee Thalheimer and brand designer Laura Cary at hopinthesaddle.com
