

Commonwealth Legal brings FTI's Ringtail 8 to the Canadian Market.

TORONTO, ON, CANADA – May 1, 2013 – COMMONWEALTH LEGAL, Canada's only ISO 9001:2008 quality-certified service provider for evidence management and litigation support solutions, announced today the official Canadian release of FTI's Ringtail 8 Ediscovery Software, which promises to match Ringtail's proven scalability with greatly improved usability to help legal teams effectively handle any ediscovery matter.

A fully integrated review, analysis and production platform, Ringtail 8 includes a new user interface for increased productivity, database enhancements for greater scalability and administration, as well as additional production features for better automation and speed.

"Its intuitive, streamlined, customizable interface requires fewer clicks, making Ringtail 8 the most comprehensive and flexible litigation support software on the market today," says Ramesh Bijarchi, Manager Web Hosting Solutions at Commonwealth Legal. "Its visualization tools give users ready insight into the document collection and empowers our clients to work with their cases in new and powerful ways."

Ringtail 8 provides defensible review in a single platform with flexible workflows, intelligent reuse of data, visual document review, and bullet-proof production. The new user interface includes graphical enhancements such as Document Mapper integration, colour coding, quick coding and family coding, which brings the power of the application into the hands of the end user so that they can easily view and interpret key information about their case.

"Commonwealth Legal has been the Canadian hosting partner of FTI Ringtail since 2007, so we were quite excited to bring Ringtail 8 to the marketplace as firms are increasingly looking for fuller administrative control over their cases in both a hosted and Managed Services scenario," says Jennifer Johnson, Vice President at Commonwealth Legal. "We have been piloting Ringtail 8 since January of this year and many of our clients are considering Ringtail as a viable end-to-end solution."

"We are very happy to see Commonwealth Legal upgrade to Ringtail 8, which brings a completely new user experience to Ringtail," says Tim Klinger, Managing Director at FTI Technology. "FTI fully supports Commonwealth Legal's endeavors to help make Ringtail the number one choice for evidence management in Canada."

Ringtail 8 is now available in Canada through Commonwealth Legal for hosted cases and on a subscription basis as part of our Managed Services offering, or can be purchased as a direct-install at your firm.
