“Our clients want the most from their travel experience, and we deliver,” said Jim Swieter, Founder and CEO of TrendRight Travel. “We have the local knowledge, relationships, strategic alliances, and feet-on-the-ground experience that allow us to customize special itineraries to meet each client’s unique requests. Our niche is the Caribbean, and our access and connections there enable us to offer special pricing and deals on hotels, cruises, and activities that are unavailable to other travel agents.”

Swieter added, “Arranging travel details for groups, or surrounding special events like wedding and anniversaries can be both complicated and stressful. TrendRight Travel is in the business of turning the challenges of group travel into rewarding, memorable, and relaxing events for our clients. We strive to gain long-term clients by connecting with them and providing them with various travel options for their unique travel requests. We want to gain people’s trust by demonstrating what we bring to the table way before they decide to travel.”
