

Making HR easy

ABOUT US

Piilo is a privately owned software company focused on innovating talent management and human resources for businesses that want to explore the benefits of the cloud computing and mobility in managing their workforce, whether you are a small, medium or large business. Piilo software is designed to make human capital management easy, practical and affordable. We serve businesses across industries and countries.

Piilo head office is based in United States with our support and development hub based in South Africa.

Piilo software is focused on making talent and human capital management easy, practical and affordable for small, medium and large businesses. Piilo software helps you manage your employees and their talent in an effective manner without getting lost in the complexity of talent management practices.

EASY AND PRACTICAL

Piilo software is aimed at business owners, line management and employees, not only HR professionals. Piilo software is simple to use, with uncluttered screens and visible processes to guide users through the necessary steps.

FLEXIBLE

Piilo software gives your business the power to create your own software suite based on your budget and operational requirements. There is no forced bundling of software, which gives you the flexibility to choose only the modules you require.

AFFORDABLE

At Piilo you only pay for the subscriptions you choose per module, there are no minimum subscriptions. We also reward your business with volume based and annual payment discounts. Or you can manage your cash flow with our monthly “pay-as-you-go” option. Piilo pricing is available on our website or contact us for more information.

DATA SECURITY

Piilo is certified by TRUSTe for international data privacy and security to give you the assurance that your data is safe.

TRUSTED PLATFORM

Piilo is based on Microsoft’s Windows Azure platform, which provides us with world-class infrastructure and ability to deploy Piilo software across the globe. Windows Azure provides high levels of availability, reliability and business continuity.
