Emerald Brand Donates $5,000 in eco friendly supplies to the victims of Oklahoma Tornado

Green office and home product manufacturer helps victims through donation of eco friendly emergency supplies

Syosset, NY -- -- 06/3/2013- In response to the multiple tornadoes that struck through the Oklahoma City Region, in the past weeks, Emerald Brand, a leader in environmentally friendly office, break room and disposable products for your home and business, has donated $5,000 of emergency supplies to the Oklahoma Red Cross to support humanitarian assistance and recovery efforts.

Emerald Brand items were shipped to a local TV station in Oklahoma City for distribution to victims of the recent tornadoes that ripped through the area. Items to be distributed include cutlery and disposable plates and bowls, facial tissues and paper towels from bagasse, a derivative of sugar cane, gloves, wipes, garbage liners and disinfectant sprays.

"Our thoughts and prayers go out to all those impacted by this horrific tragedy," said CEO, Ralph Bianculli. "For now, we have collected supplies we feel can be of most need for victims and distributed them through local sources in Oklahoma. We stand ready to help in any way possible."

About Emerald Brand: Emerald Brand is the leading manufacturer of eco-friendly office and home products and is committed to providing cost-neutral conversion initiatives for businesses such as hotels, restaurants, corporate offices, educational institutions and more. Emerald tree-free products are less expensive than their traditional counterparts because they're made from Bagasse, or sugar cane pulp, which is a rapidly renewable and cost-effective alternative to traditional materials.
