

GOLFERS DROP LAWSUIT AGAINST AUBREY J. FERRAO

In April 2010, we filed a lawsuit in Federal Court against Aubrey J. Ferrao seeking the recovery of approximately $13 million styled, Matthew Suffoletto, Raymond David, Steven Taub and Stephen Shulman, individually and on behalf of all persons similarly situated, vs. Aubrey Ferrao; Case No. 2:10-CV-241-FtM-36DNE. We have agreed to dismiss the lawsuit with prejudice. We also have agreed to the publication of this statement to correct any adverse impressions that the lawsuit has or may have caused to Mr. Ferrao and to repair the injury to Mr. Ferrao's reputation and good name.

We are current and resigned members of the Golf Club at Fiddler's Creek who sued to recover our initiation deposits paid to the Golf Club. We sued Mr. Ferrao alleging that he converted all of the initiation deposits paid by the members of the Golf Club for his personal benefit.

In separate litigation, a federal judge subsequently ruled based upon, among other things, a report from the well-respected certified accounting firm of Larson Allen, LLP, that Mr. Ferrao did not receive or benefit from any of the initiation deposits paid by the members of the Golf Club.

We apologize to Mr. Ferrao.
