Courtyard Raleigh Cary Finishes Room Renovation, Second Phase Of Improvements

Hotel in Cary, North Carolina, invites guests to sleep, work and play better in comfortable new private spaces

Raleigh, NC – The best keeps getting better at the Courtyard Raleigh Cary Hotel. The popular hotel in Cary, North Carolina, recently finished its second phase of renovations. This round of improvements focused on guest rooms, which now offer improved environments to relax, rejuvenate and recover after a day of sightseeing or work.

A previous renovation, which concluded in 2011, saw the addition of new features in the lobby, including an interactive GoBoard, improved seating, private media pods and a business library. The Bistro — Eat. Drink. Connect, serves freshly prepared salads, sandwiches and entrees as well as Starbucks coffee. The Market, a 24/7 shop offers conveniences including snacks, drinks and travel supplies.

"Our guests' comfort is our top priority," said Skip King, general manager of the Cary hotel. "The first phase of our renovation added new services in our public spaces, but we wanted to make sure that guests enjoyed themselves just as much in their rooms. Now that we've completed the second part of our renovation, our guests will get a chance to experience some of the most comfortable rooms among hotels near Raleigh."

Completed in April 2013, the room renovation at this hotel in Cary added welcomed amenities and improvements. Whether traveling for business or leisure, guests will appreciate the new Simmons Beautyrest mattresses, which will carry guests into a restful sleep. For travelers who have some extra time in between meetings or at the end of their day, new 37-inch flat-panel televisions offer premium movie channels and favorite programming.

As a commitment not only to the guests but also to the community, the Cary hotel is now recognized as an Energy Star-certified hotel.

The hotel in Cary invested $800,000 in the room renovation, bringing Marriott's total investment to $1.8 million.

Guests interested in enjoying one of the 149 newly renovated guest rooms at this hotel near Raleigh, North Carolina, can make a reservation today by visiting www.CaryCourtyard.com or calling 1-919-481-9666.
