About:

briseis couture aims for the stars Classy & elegant, yet not old fashioned. Professional & strong, but not intimidating. Young, creative, yet not childlike. briseis couture was created with thoughts to dress a woman, who knows of who she is.

for successful women only briseis couture is a german fashion brand. It initially began in 2009, when Jacqueline Friedmann established the label in Frankfurt. The style of her first collection "the office chair acrobat" was described in the following way: "It is her, the Amazon of conference rooms, the lady warrior of the coffee kitchen, armed with

SCIENTICITY

The inspiration is a minimalistic look with soft sculptural lines but one with innovation integrated into a "made by hand" approach. Multiple layer and multi gauges knitted fabrics mimicking the landscape of rock formations.

Racking effects, plisse and tri-dimensional knits create relief patterns in luxurious extra fine merino and alpaca blends and finest prima cottons. Fibers are mixed

Reel Gatsby vs. Real Gatsby

Period Appropriate Attire

Recently there has been a wave of media revolving around the 1920s era. Movies and television programs like "The Great Gatsby" and "Boardwalk Empire", both set in 1920 & 1921 have piqued interest in the era. These titles are entertaining and well written, but do they accurately represent the clothing of the era? Or were the silhouettes of the period updated to cater to a modern audience?

The ubiquitous silhouette of the 20s, a tubular shape with no defined bust line, existed

Luxury handbag couture designer

One of the most amazing handbag designers I have stumbled upon at the WWD Magic Convention here in Las Vegas was that of Retta J. Wolff. The Dallas based luxury handbag couture designer has been designing some of the worlds most exclusive handbags for over the past twenty years. I had the pleasure of meeting the creative genius behind this couture handbag company. As I sat down with Retta I was mesmerized by the array of handbags and accessories, and each seems to have its own unique story to tell. I was in couture handbag heaven as I glanced around
