(Virginia Beach, VA – June 2013) Edvance360 LMS-SN announced it has been named a Top Online Teaching Tool by Top Online Teaching Tool and third in the Learning Management System category: <http://top5onlinecolleges.org/teaching-tools>, a blog which follows Nicole Gottlieb as she shares her insight and involvement in the higher education space. Nicole is passionate about student engagement in campus-based and online education, and her experience as a Student Life Specialist at Kaplan University offers a unique look into today's 21st century classroom.

“We are delighted to win this award,” said Cathy Garland, Vice-President of Marketing & Sales, “and excited to be listed among the best learning management systems and other technologies that continue to change education. Edvance360 LMS-SN was a trigger for the evolution of Course Management Systems to Learning Management Systems to Networked Learning Environments. We are proud to continue to affect education by creating an environment enabling teachers to teach and learners to learn.”

From Top5OnlineColleges:

The proliferation of Massive Open Online Courses (MOOCs) and other forms of online education have changed the landscape of guided learning for both students and teachers. Professors who once stood in front of classrooms filled with dozens of students now stand in front of webcams in front of thousands or tens of thousands of logged-in users. Grading papers, scoring tests, and giving personalized feedback are all totally different pursuits in an online environment, and technology companies are rushing to build the tools that make online learning easier, more effective, and more enjoyable for teachers and their students.
