Owl family takes up stay at San Francisco Airport Marriott Waterfront, inspires Facebook contest

Children who stay at the Burlingame hotel will receive complimentary owl stuffed animals to honor bird

BURLINGAME, CA – One of the best ways for travelers to enjoy the sights and sounds of San Francisco is by staying on the Concierge Level at the San Francisco Airport Marriott Waterfront. Guests can follow the lead of some returning visitors to the hotel, a barn owl family that hotel guests can help name this summer.

The owl family first made its appearance last June and enjoyed the balcony off of Room 1141 so much that the parents came back to hatch another set of offspring.

The returning owls will be presented with a Marriott Rewards membership card, which offers hotel points or airline miles with every stay. Visitors and owl lovers can see photos of the family at the hotel's Facebook page at www.facebook.com/SanFranciscoAirportMarriott. The San Francisco waterfront hotel staff always wants to know their guests better, so they have launched a Facebook contest to help name the owls. The "Hoo's Hoo?" contest and updated information are posted on the Facebook page.

By staying on the Concierge Level for the summer, the owls can enjoy benefits regular guests have come to love. The Concierge Lounge at the San Francisco airport hotel offers complimentary continental breakfast, hors d'oeuvres and dessert as well as nonalcoholic beverages and cocktails for a fee. The "Hoot Suite," where the owls have temporarily set up residence, is usually left unoccupied, but when the hotel is sold out, guests who stay in that room are asked to be respectful of the owls.

To help celebrate the return of the owl family, children staying at the Burlingame hotel will receive a free stuffed owl to remember their visit. Guests staying in Room 1141 also will receive stuffed owls to commemorate their stay.
