

Public Relations Without Walls

In a virtual world, there's no great advantage to dealing with large brick and mortar PR companies. Those glass offices in the sky and massive oak conference tables add up to some hefty overhead. Who pays to maintain the status quo? You, the client, that's who!

Hank Eder PR/Marketing is a virtual PR company. We've trimmed the brick and mortar expenses down to zero, and we pass the savings on to you.

Does that mean our services are cheap? No. When it comes to your brand, cheap should not be an option, but quality and fairness should.

We offer Public Relations, Press Releases, Copy Writing, Newsletters, B2B Publications, Corporate/Personnel Communications, SEO Writing, Crisis Response PR, Social Network Copywriting and Maintenance, Blog Writing, Branding, Graphics Design, and much more.

Find out how the power of Virtual PR can work for your company. Call or email for a personalized quote today.
