The new format three-day event is firmly in the industry’s calendar as the must-attend event for titanium and zircon participants, ranging from established participants to potential new entrants, and with ever growing interest from the financial community.

The TZMI Congress has received strong international attendance at every event. Since relocating from Singapore to Hong Kong in 2010, the global reach of this conference has been continually growing.

“TZMI certainly puts on the premier TiO₂ conference in the industry. The knowledge and networking opportunities gained is invaluable and keeps our team coming back every year!”
