FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Golden Tech Sr. Partner Appointed To Board Of Directors Of Area Tech Group (SWFRTP)

Southwest Florida Regional Technology Partnership

As of August 16, 2013, Golden Tech's Senior Partner, Greg Scasny has been appointed to the Southwest Florida Regional Technology Partnership's Board of Directors.

"I'm incredibly honored to join SWFRTP's Board of Directors. I truly see a bright future for technology businesses in Southwest Florida and I look forward to contributing my experience to help foster that growth in our beautiful community," said Golden Tech Senior Partner, Greg Scasny. "SWFRTP's mission is to encourage the development, growth and attraction of technology companies and technology resources in SW Florida. I can't wait to start serving on the board and continuing to carry out their mission; we have a very strong partnership here and I'm truly humbled to be a part of it."

Gregory P. Scasny is a co-founder of Golden Tech, an IT Management company. Greg is a graduate of Purdue University with a Bachelors Degree in Electrical Engineering and Technology, with over 18 years of experience. A native of Northwest Indiana, Greg moved to Naples, FL in 2008 to open an expansion office of Golden Tech. Greg co-founded Golden Tech in 2000 with three business partners he met while being employed as a Systems Engineer at Bethlehem Steel.

The Southwest Florida Regional Technology Partnership was chartered in 2008, not long before Golden Tech established its Naples, FL office. The group has grown its membership rapidly and helped to cultivate a budding tech entrepreneurship in the area. SWFRTP, a non-profit 501(c)(6), devotes itself to pushing forward technology via what it calls the "3 C's": Catalyze, Cultivate, and Connect.
