Document Re-creation Services

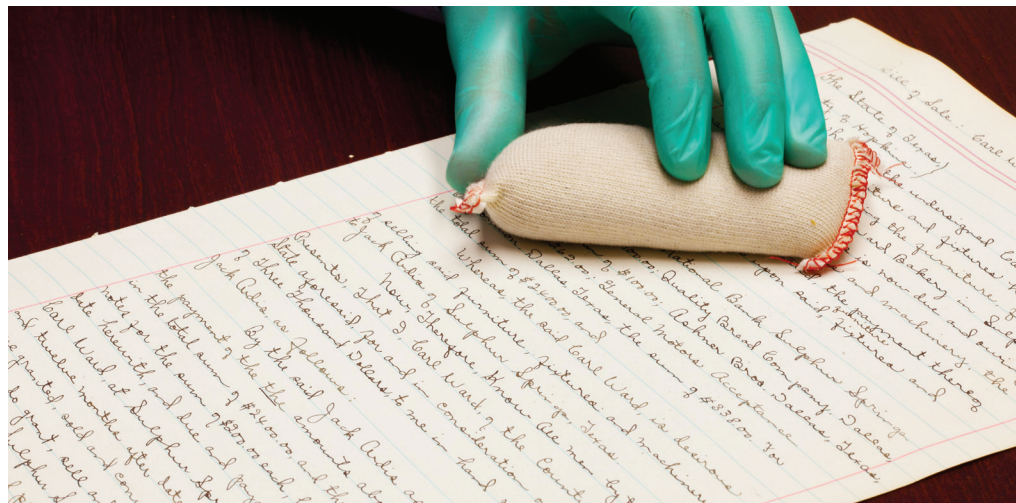

Bringing new life to your historical documents

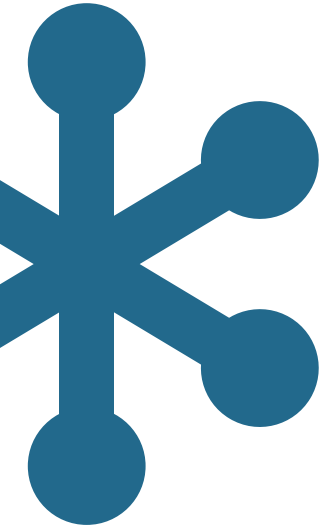

Expert Imaging Quality

Archival Papers

Custom Binders

Unfortunately, not everything was built to last forever. So before you lose your important documents or images to old age or wear and tear, trust in Cogniserv's Re-creation solutions. Whether you want high-quality copies of important images for your records, or need a new spine put onto your leather-bound binders, our team of imaging technicians will provide you with re-created documents or images at the highest level of quality possible.

Out with the old... and in with the new.

Expert Imaging Quality

In the early 1990s we began developing cost-effective software to enhance image quality without the loss of data. So when customers entrust us with their records, we can assure them they'll be getting the highest image quality possible.

Powerful software, coupled with the latest in hardware scanners, provide a formidable combination for even the poorest quality originals.

Custom Binders

Although traditional and elegant, your leather and canvas binders from years past are likely worn beyond their functional use.

Fortunately, new binding and page repair is part of Cogniserv's county services, from traditional leather and canvas binders to the most secure fire resistant and water resistant binders.

Archival Papers

The United States has a significant investment in providing standards for retaining and restoring important historical records.

Cogniserv adheres to all US Department of Archives recommendations for reproducing images back to paper form.
