Embassy Suites Seattle - Bellevue Hotel Announces Winner of a Free Wedding to a Gay Couple

The Embassy Suites Seattle-Bellevue Hotel announces the winning couple of their free pride wedding contest, which launched in June 2013 to celebrate Washington state's legalization of same-sex marriage. The winning couple receives a wedding package valued at $10,000.

Bellevue, WA - September 17th 2013 - The Embassy Suites Seattle - Bellevue hotel is excited to announce the winners of their contest to give away a wedding to a gay couple. The Pride Wedding Giveaway contest was launched in June of 2013 in honor of Washington State's legalization of same-sex marriage. Couples from across the nation submitted photos and stories sharing their love and what winning this wedding would mean to them. The hotel team poured over numerous entries before selecting the winning couple: Diana and Gina. "Many stories really touched our hearts but Diana and Gina's romance really shined through and we were thrilled to select them as the winning couple," commented Louis Haslett, General Manager of Embassy Suites Seattle-Bellevue. The happy couple has selected a winter wedding to coincide with their engagement last December when Diana proposed to Gina by hanging ornaments on the tree with 'Will You Marry Me' written on them.

Partnering with generous sponsors, the winter wedding at the Embassy Suites Hotel in Bellevue will include a wedding ceremony for 100 guests, floral arrangements, ceremony music, photography, officiant, wedding cake, hors d'oeuvres and champagne, luxury limousine, invitations and a two night stay in the honeymoon suite. The Embassy Suites Seattle - Bellevue has proudly served couples on their special day by providing a beautiful venue with impeccable food and service and now celebrates the opportunity to serve all couples in love.
