FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Praecipio Consulting goes Platinum

Press release

Austin, TX, September 16, 2013 – Praecipio Consulting, an IT, business process, and software consulting firm based in Austin, TX became Platinum Atlassian Partner Experts on Thursday, September 12, 2013. Praecipio Consulting is now one of five platinum experts in the US, and one of 25 in the world.

“We're thrilled to reach the ranks of Platinum Atlassian Expert Partner status with Platinum-level certification across the entire Atlassian product suite.” Said Christian Lane, co-founder of Praecipio Consulting. “This is a distinguishing achievement that emphasizes our commitment to helping our clients improve their business, IT and Software Development practices with best-in-class software from Atlassian.”

Praecipio Consulting was founded in 2006 and works with a diverse set of companies across a diverse set of industries, ranging from Fortune 20 to Fortune 500. The firm reached Atlassian Enterprise Expert status in October 2012 and has continued to prove itself as a leader in process consulting implementing the Atlassian product suite.
